A WELCOME SURPRISE

Lisa had no idea Henrik was planning to pop the question, but the romantic location might have put love in the air... "We were on a TV shoot in Paris," Lisa gushed, "Henrik and I had only been together for a little over six months, but suddenly in our lunch break he got down on one knee in our hotel room and the rest is history!"

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT

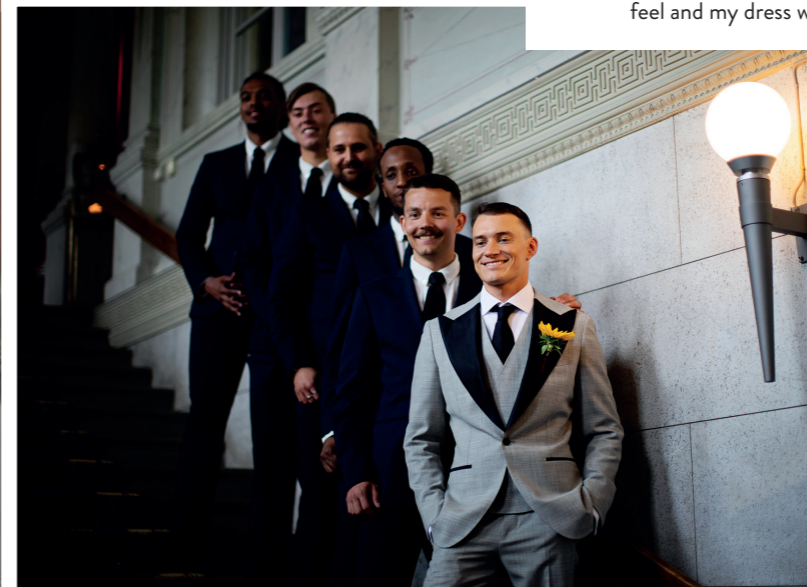

As soon as our couple locked eyes with their wedding venue, they were besotted! "Our wedding planner, Anna, showed us Rånäs Slott after listening to our criteria and it was perfect for us, the location was also ideal as it was close to both my hometown and the airport for all Norwegians who were going to fly in from my husband's side," Lisa told us, "we had 110 people and many slept over at the castle to enjoy the three days of celebrations."

STYLE SUPERSTAR

A visit to their wedding planner's showroom at Lilly's Delight resulted in our blushing bride quickly finding the one... "She had a sea of beautiful dresses and my past experience as a stylist meant I already knew which designs and styles suited my body and made me feel comfortable," our Bride explained, "it was a quick process to find my dream dress and wearing it felt just like in my dreams! I was less worried about the brand and more concerned with how it made me feel and my dress was unbeatable."

"I finally got my Henrik and it was the most emotional thing I've ever experienced."

LILLY'S DELIGHT

We spoke to Anna from Lilly's Delight, a Swedish wedding planner based in Stockholm, about curating this bespoke influencer wedding and how the special couple inspired her choices. Let's get to know this fantastic company a little more...

"We had a colour theme for the dresses and the pictures looked amazing!"

WEDDING WALTZ

After flying in the Eurovision Song Contest winner, Alexander Rybak, to perform the violin during their ceremony, their first dance took on a traditional Swedish twist. "We played a Swedish song called 'Svag' and danced the wedding waltz to, with this version being sung by the Norwegian artist Astrid S and the Swedish performer Victor Leksell, nationalities that mirrored Henrik and I," they told us, "I would really recommend practicing some steps prior to the big day with a professional dancer, we ran it through with a friend and it was special to interact throughout the steps rather than just aimlessly spin around."

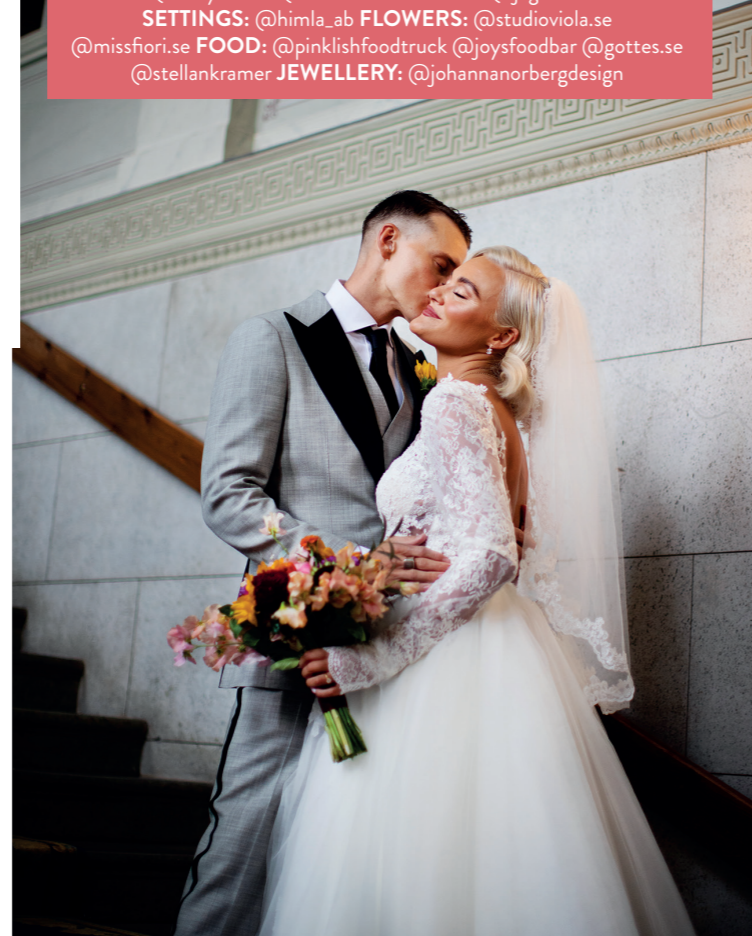

MAKE A WEEKEND OF IT

When asked, the couple admitted that their best decision was to make a weekend of their celebrations with three days of events. This was ideal for the guests to all get to know each other at the party on Friday, be in the moment on the Saturday and then add the icing on the cake with the breakfast together on Sunday morning. "It was the perfect end to a wonderful weekend!"

TELL US ABOUT YOUR COMPANY

Lilly's Delight launched in 2018 after a long career dedicated to the Finance and Marketing sectors. I knew I wanted to follow something I had a great passion and love for, so I decided to start my wedding planning company, Lilly's Delight. I named the venture after my mother who was a very passionate woman and inspires me in all I do. To bring my couple's dreams to life means everything to me and I love to individually get to know each partnership to ensure their personalised day can come to fruition.

WHERE ARE YOU BASED?

We are based in Stockholm, Sweden. But we also plan weddings in France and Italy for our couples.

WHAT'S SPECIAL ABOUT MARRYING IN YOUR LOCATION?

The beauty of Sweden, France and Italy is you are not limited to one simple location that every couple must adhere to. We have a variety of stunning venues that can be tailored to suit any plans, from a beautiful castle in Sweden, to a traditional barn in the vineyards of Italy or even a manor house in the South of France. We go wherever our couples choose and make their dreams come true!

TELL US ABOUT THIS FEATURED WEDDING...

Lisa and Henrik are so gorgeous! They both work as influencers in Sweden and Norway and wanted a traditional wedding with a twist, so we ended up with a three day celebration at a beautiful castle outside Stockholm, Rånäs Slott.

Here was how the celebrations played out... Friday had a festival theme for the 110 guests with food trucks, live music and lots of surprises for the attendees! The wedding day itself was more traditional with a Christian ceremony and a delicious wedding dinner to follow, finished off by a Sunday brunch to catch up with all their loved ones and say thank you.

WHAT INSPIRED YOU? TELL US ABOUT THE PLANNING PROCESS...

My biggest inspiration for the wedding came from the couple themselves as Lisa and Henrik are very colourful people, and we wanted the celebrations to mirror their vibrant personalities. Every element followed a colour code, from colourful flowers to lots of lights - the guests wore outfits in colours we had decided and even the staff followed the dress code! It worked really effectively as it all complemented each other.

The dress that Lisa wore was a secondhand dress that we had tailored to her style and size. This element of re-using and sustainability was also part of her personality and we were pleased we could make her wishes come true.

ONE BEAUTIFUL MEMORY OF THIS WEDDING?

We had quite bad weather during the outdoors ceremony and I remember Lisa coming down the aisle with her father as her siblings all held the train of her dress off the wet ground. It was a beautiful moment that contained so much love. I would have to say that the first dance after the wedding dinner was really special too, it brought a tear to my eye.
